The Assassination of Kotzebue.

Augustus von Kotzebue, a famous dramatic writer, author, among a number of other plays, of "The Stranger" and "Pizarro," lived a life full of strange vicissitudes, and expired in the following tragic manner: The Emperor of Russia was extremely anxious to influence or forestall opinion in Germany. For this purpose Kotzebue was employed. He established a journal, in which he opposed all progress and the liberty of the press. A paper intended only for the eye of the Emperor Alexander, in which Kotzebue described one of his opponents in journalism as "the most detestable instrument of hell," at length, in 1818, revealed the full treachery of this literary hireling, and raised a cry of indignation against him throughout Germany. The exposure compelled him to quit Weimar. He next took up his abode at Mannheim, where he resumed his perfidious work; and, at a time when all Germany was ringing with echoes of the French revolution, proclaimed himself the enemy of liberty and the friend of despotism. This alone would have been sufficient to have brought down upon him the indignation of the enthusiasts; but when to this was added the knowledge that he was the mouthpiece of a foreign despot, who was desirous of establishing an authority over the country, indignation rose to ungovernable hatred. He had made himself particularly conspicuous in applauding the dismissal of 1,200 students from Gottingen, on account of a brawl between them and the citizens, and a morbid young student, named Charles Louis Sand, took upon himself to avenge, a la Charlotte Corday, the cause of liberty and the Fatherland.

On the 9th of March, 1819, he left Jena on foot for Mannheim, and arrived there on the 23d. Dressed in old German costume, and assuming the name of Henricks, he presented himself at Kotzebue's house, on the pretense that he had brought letters from Weimar. After two ineffectual attempts, he at length gained admission, and was shown into a private room; scarcely had the victim crossed the threshold when Sand plunged a long poniard into his breast, and when he had fallen, to make his work sure, inflicted three more wounds upon the body. The noise of the scuffle speedily brought servants and family to the tragic scene, and the assassin was found, dagger in hand, quietly contemplating the dying man. Yet no one attempted to arrest him, and he descended the staircase, and presented himself before the throng of people, whom the cries of "Murder!" had already gathered about the spot, and, still flourishing the poniard in one hand and a written paper in the other, exclaimed, "I am the murderer, and it is thus that all traitors should die." Then he fell upon his knees, and clasping his hands raised them to heaven, exclaiming, "I thank Thee, Oh, God, for having permitted me successfully to fulfill this act of justice." Upon the paper were inscribed the words, "Deathblow for Augustus von Kotzebue in the name of virtue."

No sooner had he spoken the last words than, tearing open his waistcoat, he repeatedly plunged the weapon into his own bosom, and fell to the ground. He was now, in a swooning condition, conveyed to prison, but as soon as he recovered he tore off his bandages and made the most desperate efforts to put an end to his life. At the trial his handsome person and his calm exaltation excited the utmost sympathy, and he went to the scaffold devoutly believing that he had performed an act of noble self-devotion, and far more pitied by the populace than was his miserable victim.

Youthful Love Making.

A gentleman was swinging in a hammock with a 4-year-old boy, who is on a country vacation, when he noticed in another hammock just opposite a bright little girl of about the same age, named Nony Belle.

"If I were you," said the gentleman to the little fellow, "I would go over and kiss Nony Belle; she looks just as if she wanted a kiss."

Nony Belle overheard the remark, and, placing her chubby finger in her mouth, twisted her head around in a rather abashed manner.

The little fellow gazed at her intently for a full minute, and then, shaking his head wisely, exclaimed, with an expression of disgust, "I don't know about it, she sucks her finger, and I got through with that when I was a baby."—Waterbury American.

No Wonder

Many a man's love has been turned into loathing on account of the unsightly eruptions on the face, and of the offensive breath of his fiancee. This trouble could have been avoided if she had only sense enough to use Burdock Blood Bitters. Price $1, trial size 10 cents. *

USE THE BEACON LIGHT COAL OIL—In brilliancy second only to the Electric Light. Call at OPPENHEIMER BROS'. store, Wharf street, next to P. McQuade & Son's, and see it burn. *

Beacon Light Coal Oil.

We claim this oil to be the best in the market. The manufacturer has made it his specialty, and it is not compounded of any mixtures but is picked from the BEST WELLS in Pennsylvania, the same as a miller picks his grain. It is therefore a finer article than the production of the average run of oil works. THESE ARE FACTS, and an examination and use of the oil will PROVE all we claim for it. The demand for the oil is increasing daily. Parties who bought one case for trial have bought again in ten and twenty case lots. Every one should use it because no special burner is required for the Beacon Light, as it burns well in any lamp designed for petroleum. It is conceded that in the manufacture of the Beacon Light all the objectionable features of petroleum have been overcome and a White, Water Color Oil is given the consumer. It produces a brilliant light, free from smoke and smell, and in point of economy it is unequalled by any other, and is the best oil for general and family use in the market.

When burning BEACON LIGHT OIL do not use a wick that has been placed in any other oil.

PERRY CREEK, Dec. 6th, 1881.

EDITOR COLONIST:—CERTAIN PARAGRAPHS in The Colonist being called to our attention in which certain parties are accused of the robbery and murder of our late partner, Mr. J. S. Meade, in strict justice to those parties we beg to state that we were present at the inquest held on the body, and that there was not the slightest evidence to show that there was any foul play, or even a hint of such a thing, and we feel bound to say that the inquiry was of the most searching kind that could be made. Relative to the robbery hinted at, from our knowledge of Mr. Meade's finances at the time, we do not believe that any robbery took place. It appears to us that the whole statement has been made out of malice.

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 7TH, 1882.

L. P. FISHER, Advertising Agent, 21 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, is authorised to receive advertisements for the columns of this paper.

"TERMS AND CONDITIONS."

On what conditions is this country willing to allow the letter of the CARNARVON terms to slde? Is it willing to let the letter go and secure the spirit? To release their grasp on the shadow and grasp the substance? Or do they still insist upon the fulfilment of "the bond." In the fall of 1876 the country was advised through these columns not to insist upon the construction of the Esquimalt-Nanaimo railway as a government work; but to accept—if the chance offered—a sum of money sufficient to secure the construction of the line by a private corporation. Now, after the lapse of nearly five and a-half years, we venture to repeat that advice. It was unpopular when first offered. Is it so now? There is reason to believe that it is one of the most popular suggestions that can be made. The Canadians cannot or will not build the road as a government work. They cannot or will not ask parliament to vote money for that purpose. But they acknowledge a liability. They acknowledge that for a period which covers eight years they have held in their hands a valuable tract of coal land extending from the Straits of Fuca to Nanaimo; that they have locked it up and have thereby retarded the progress and settlement of the province to its great injury, detriment and loss. In admitting this much they admit that they owe British Columbia compensation by way of damages. Lord CARNARVON told the ELLIOTT government that the province was entitled to large compensation in lieu of the island railway. Lord KIMBERLEY has since expressed the same opinion to the present government in language both polite and forcible. Sir CHARLES TUPPER when here last summer recognized the obligation. In his eloquent speech at Theatre Royal he did not hesitate to say that the obligation rested with the Canadian government to either build the road or to see that it was built. Sir CHARLES further pledged himself upon his return to Ottawa that he would confer with the syndicate and endeavor to induce them to undertake the work. He has fulfilled that pledge. The conference with the syndicate has been held and has resulted in failure. The syndicate will "have none of it" unless all the unoccupied coal lands are first handed over to them. The local government are charged with niggardly behavior and with showing an amazing incapacity for business. We are not surprised at the unfavarable impression they have created at Ottawa. The premier is a gentleman who delights in getting public matters into a muddle and then helplessly sitting down amidst the confusion he has caused. If this government has acted with niggardliness and exhibited incapacity in dealing with this momentous question they House will mete out an adequate punishment. The members can be safely trusted to do that. What the country has now got to do is to find out what Canada is prepared to offer in the existing emergency. Will she pay over $2,000,000, $1,000,000, or even the once-despised $750,000 in aid of the construction of the railway if the province will contribute the unoccupied lands from the Straits of Fuca to Seymour Narrows? On what terms and conditions is the Dominion willing to accept a release from an obligation which Sir CHARLES TUPPER and all his colleagues have many times acknowledged. If the Dominion government will compensate the province for the non-construction of the railway is the province prepared to do its share towards supplying the "missing link" in overland railway communication? Monopolies are evils, as "Explorer's" letter in another column points out, but the continent was first spanned with iron by a monopoly, and has not the Canadian government just called to its aid a monopoly in building a railway through British territory? Better, far better, that the public lands should pass into the hands of a monopoly who will cultivate and settle them, than remain as they are. Better a thousand times that a company should build the railway between Esquimalt and Nanaimo than that this government should undertake the job. In the latter case it would be a "job" indeed. If a responsible company that will construct the Island railway on equitable terms can be formed the country should meet them on a footing of extreme liberality. Such a company need not of necessity be a monopoly. The question of the possession of a few miles of land that will never find a market if the road is not built should not be allowed to stand in the way of the early commencement and completion of the "missing link."

LIEUT. DE LONG AND HIS PARTY.

The more recent telegrams concerning the Jeannette explorers must have mystified the reader considerably. The first news, received about Christmas, told us that Lieut. DELONG and Engineer MELVILLE'S boats had reached the mouth of Lena river and that but one boat still remained unheard from. Then came telegrams which advised of the safety of MELVILLE'S party and of a fresh search having been instituted for the recovery of DELONG whom we had just before been told was found. The information which the telegraph failed to furnish is supplied by the New York Herald of recent date. From the account in that journal it seems that DELONG landed at the mouth of the western channel of the Lena, 200 miles from the eastern mouth, and a thousand miles from any settlement from which help could be derived. His distance from St. Petersburg was 7,404 miles. At the time of his landing there was a summer fishing settlement on the eastern mouth of the Lena, 200 miles distant, with an intervening barren delta. He must have reached the shore about the 30th October. His boat's crew was then in a starving and frozen condition. It is now nearly three months since any intelligence has been received directly from DELONG. The news of his landing was brought to a Russian fishing settlement by two of DELONG'S messengers. The barren delta of 200 miles DELONG and his party have never traversed. When a relief party went to his assistance they found many traces but not the men. Engineer MELVILLE, having recruited his strength, has gone back to Lena river to look for his commander. The fact that MELVILLE has discovered Lieut. DELONG'S log books and instruments, but did not find the men, is in some respects a very discouraging one since it shows that the party had been compelled, probably by imminent danger of starvation, to move in search of the help which had failed to come to them, and that they were already reduced to extremities. Log books and instruments are the last things which an exhausted and retreating party abandon, and when they are thrown away it is an evidence that the men are making a final struggle for life. The search parties also found, it seems, "records" left by Lieut. DELONG in his retreat. These records should have contained and probably did contain a statement of his condition and plans, and directions by which he could be traced and followed, but they seem to have been of no avail, since they did not lead to a discovery of the party.

All Sorts.

There is an awful rumor that the apostle of aestheticism was christened by the unpoetical name of "Oscar O'Flaherty."

One of our exchanges relates that while preaching from the text, "He giveth his beloved sleep," a certain minister stopped in the middle of his sermon, gazed upon his sleeping auditors, and said:—"Brethren, it is hard to realize the unbounded love the Lord appears to have for a good portion of this congregation."

F. Nichols Crouch, of Baltimore, has written a letter in which he says that from thirty different editions of his song, "Kathleen Mavourneen," which have been published, he has not received a cent. He is now working as a common mechanic at less than a dollar a day, and on this stipend he has to support a wife and five children.

When Fenelon was almoner to Louis XIV. his majesty was astonished to find one Sunday, instead of a numerous congregation, only him and the priest. "What is the reason of this?" asked the king. "I caused it to be given out, sire," replied Fenelon, "that your majesty did not attend chapel to-day, that you might know who came to worship God, and who to flatter the king."

As soon as the result of the recent elections in Alsace and Lorraine had been announced, many of the inhabitants of Strasburg showed themselves in the streets wearing tricoloured cockades. By way of satirizing this patriotic outburst an officer of the German garrison fastened an immense tricoloured cockade to the tail of his dog. "Ah!" cried the first person he encountered, an old peasant woman, "Even the dogs!—bless 'em!—hate the Germans!"

The New York Sun says that it may be interesting to slender woman to know that Mr. Oscar Wilde's ideal of perfect beauty is Sarah Bernhardt whom he regards as the realization of all his æsthetic dreams. He says he would ask no higher earthly delight than to sit on the doorstep of the house in which she sleeps.

"Well," said an Irish attorney, "if it plaze the coort, if I am wrong in this, I have another point that is equally conclusive."

An Ohio woman, while repeating nursery rhymes to her child stopped in the middle of a verse, stepped into an adjoining room and shot herself.

A resident of Belfast, Ohio, has been put under bonds of $500 to appear before the grand jury on the charge of opening a letter from his wife to her father.

"You made a fool of me," said an irritated man to his wife. "My love," she sweetly responded, "you do yourself injustice. Call yourself a fool, if you wish, but remember that you are in all respects a self-made man."

A singular case against the Vicar of St. Mark's church, London, was recently heard in a police court. The plaintiff, Jane Scalle, sued for $7.50, the value of a cushion placed in a pew at the church. The defendant had offered her $5 for the same, although the bishop had decided that the cushion, having been once placed in the church, became the church property. The vicar's defense was that the cushion had been been sold to some occupant of a free seat. Judgment was given for $6.50 and costs, whereupon the plaintiff became very violent. The court officers and her friends vainly endeavored to quiet her, and when the vicar left the court the woman struck and otherwise abused him.

WERE man to conform more to the laws of health and of nature, and be less addicted to the gratification of his passions. It would not be necessary to advertise Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites as a restorative for the power of the brain and nervous system, while the world's progress and enlightenment would indeed be marvellous. *

C. A. LIVINGSTONE, Plattsville, says:—"I have much pleasure in recommending Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, from having used it myself, and having sold it for some time. In my own case I will say for it that it is the best preparation I have ever tried for rheumatism." 36

TO THE EDITOR:—I WAS TAKEN BEFORE Mr. Skinner, a J. I never laid a hand on her husband, on the day specified in the complaint, and the evidence given before Mr. Skinner was as crooked as a dog's hind leg. WM. CHISHOLM.

THE BENEFITS OF CO-OPERATION.

TO THE EDITOR:—SO MUCH "SORROW" having been expressed by Shareholders of the B. C. Co-operative Company, permit me to contribute my mite.

I am favored with a family to support and so far have been able to pay for what I got. In comparing the prices I paid previous to the opening of the co-operative Store with the prices I now pay, the quality of the goods being equal, I find the following:—

	BEFORE.		NOW.
Blk Tea per lb	$ 75	....	$ 60
White Sugar per lb	16½	....	14
Soda Crackers	12½	....	10
Corn Starch	25	....	16⅔
Cutting's Peaches	50	....	40
S. I. Rice	12½	....	10
L. & P. Worcester Sauce	75	....	60
Price's Candles	37½	....	25
Oregon City Flour	1 75	....	1 60
Bran per 100lb	1 50	....	1 25
Oil Cake	2 25	....	1 75

And other goods in proportion, showing an average discount of 20 per cent. My bill being nearly $300 per annum it requires but a slight calculation to make me "sorry" that the Co-operative Company had not been in existence ten years in place of one; and when Victoria is without the B. C. Co-operative Company or a "similar institution" I will join the band of SORRY SHAREHOLDERS.

MURDER ON FISGARD STREET.

GREAT EXCITEMENT AMONG CHINESE.

Several Leading Men Arrested.

About 9 o'clock on Sunday night information was laid with the police that a Chinaman named Ah Kow had been stabbed to death on Fisgard street. Supt. O'Connor and Officers Hough and Speed were immediately on the spot and found the man lying quite dead on the sidewalk in front of a Chinese establishment of doubtful reputation. On examining the premises blood was found in a long passage and the floor had the appearance of having been recently washed. Blood was also visible in a room where several stout Chinamen and two women were found. The proprietor of the house asserted that on hearing a fall near the door he went out and found the murdered man on the sidewalk stabbed on the back and in the mouth. He admitted that three or four of his countrymen were gambling in the house. The police carefully examined the sidewalk on both sides of the street above and below, but could find no trace of blood anywhere except in the house in question and in front of it. Three short Chinamen are said to have been standing at the door when the unfortunate man fell. The keeper of the house, Ah Fow, and the women, were arrested, the former on suspicion of having committed the foul deed and the women as being accessories. The police are fully of the opinion that the man was stabbed in the house. The preliminary examination of the prisoners was postponed yesterday morning at the police court till to-morrow. Yesterday afternoon two more Chinamen in "high life" on Cormorant street — Wing Chong and Ah Soon — were arrested on suspicion of being implicated in this very serious affair. Further developments will likely be made in the police court to-morrow. The murdered man, who is repectably dressed, was taken over to the police barracks to await an inquest, which will be held to-day at noon. The Chinese merchants offer a reward of $600 for the discovery of the murderer.

GARROTTING AND ROBBING.—Early on Sunday morning last a man named Crowley was knocked down on Store street, near Rock Bay bridge, and robbed of $4.10 in money. The man was choked and kicked about the face in a shocking manner. After coming partially to himself he made the best of his way to the police barracks and gave in a description of the roughs who had perpetrated the outrage. Officers Sheppard and Speed went at once with Crowley and from the discription arrested John L. Barry and James Kelly, two characters well known to the police, who have been watching them for some time past. Crowley at once recognized the men as the parties who had assaulted and robbed him. The case was remanded at the police court yesterday till to-morrow.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Yesterday Mr. R. Dunsmuir purchased five acres of land from Judge Gray and an acre from Mr. Harrison, on Cadboro Bay, with the intention of erecting thereon a residence.

THE harbor-bottom near the custom-house has been bored to a depth of thirty feet without rock being met. The dredger will deepen the harbor along the wharves by five feet.

NEW WHARF.—Mr. C. Hayward is building a new wharf in front of the lot adjoining the custom-house on the north, and will also erect substantial sheds there.

What Some People Say.

That all dogs should read Mr. Shopland's advertisement in this issue.

That a man and his wife found a stranger ill under their woodshed at Irondale, Ill., and kindly put him to bed. On learning that his disease was small-pox they would not turn him out, but nursed him through it, at the cost of considerable time, money and labor, neither of which they could afford to give away. When he recovered he stole $17 from them and fled.

That Howard, the one-armed man who was recently hanged at Seattle, was not a crippled Union soldier. He had never been in the army.

That the Seattle Post-Intelligencer says there has been no effort to create a boom in real estate in Seattle, but it is there "all the same." The prices demanded are fifty, one hundred, and even two hundred per cent. above those current twelve months ago.

That that excellent exchange the Seattle Post-Intelligencer would confer a favor if it would reduce its title.

That the local organ has discovered there is no "honor" in the opposition press. Both "honor" and "profit," then, attach to the government organs. Rather a queer combination.

That a little boy threw the kitten away from him yesterday with the remark that he didn't like a cat with "splinters in its feet."

"Where did you dine yesterday, Fred?" "O, at the kwub." "Good dinnah?" "Yasse, O yasse, I dined on such a lovely pwimrose, with a gewanium for dessert. With dwose I dwunk in the delicious fwagrance of a sweet and tendah wiolet." "How pwecious!" "Yasse, it was evah so uttahly soul-satisfying and supweme."

That when Oscar Wilde departed for the States the Pall Mall Gazette sang:

"Oh Sunflower, west turn thou thy crest,
Thy singer is not here;
Ye Roses bright, pale, pale to white,
For him that is so dear!
For Boston waits at all her gates,
Impatient hour by hour,
A Pilgrim man, no Puritan,
Not May Flower, but Sunflower!"

That there have been a large number of instances of corporal punishment at the boys' public school within a brief space of time. Rumor says 110 whippings during January. Either the boys are very, very bad or the teachers are altogether too utterly too enarmored of the rod.

That if the teachers are whalers can the boys that are birched be called whales?

That the last tableaux of the season will take place on Thursday evening.

That there will be no postponement on account of the weather or on any other account.

That A. W. Piper, now the leading confectioner of Seattle, while the lynched men were hanging drew a graphic sketch of the ghastly scene. The sketch has been photographed and widely sold.

That it blew great guns last night.

That the All Stars will twinkle at Theatre Royal this evening.

Twinkle, twinkle thirty stars,
With your quirks and laughing jars.
Sure your new jokes and your fun,
Entitle you to take the "bun."

That the judgments on the constitutional question will be delivered in a day or two.

That the Dominion House will meet on Thursday.

That Senator Nelson will go East by the steamer of Friday.

That the West Shore for January is an instructive and well illustrated number.

That a lady residing on the Mainland was safely delivered of triplets the other day. They were her first-born. The husband is as astonished as Artemus Ward wasat the arrival of the twins, and calls the event a "trio of episodes."

That the maintenance of the public school at Maple Bay is inconvenient for a majority of the children of schoolgoing age in the district, and that it should be removed to a more central location.

That fears of a drought are entertained in California. To February 1st only 8 inches of rain had fallen against 23 inches to the same date last year.

That farmers and merchants are alike alarmed at the dry outlook.

That just as the pin is bent the man's inclined to beat the upholstering out of the boy that put it in his chair cushion.

B. C. Agricultural Association.

Yesterday Mayor Shakespeare, Ex-Mayor Turner and Councillor Boyd waited on the Minister of Agriculture and presented the claim of the B. C. Agricultural Association to a grant in aid of the objects of the society. The minister listened to the statements of the deputation and consented to recommend a vote of $1000 to the Executive Council and the House. The deputation then withdrew.

PUGET SOUND PILOTAGE.

"English" Pilots Raking in the Sweepstakes.

The pilotage laws of Puget Sound were recently repealed, and the Port Townsend Argus is concerned because "last week the bark C. O. Whitmore was piloted from Royal Roads to this place by Pilot Christensen, of the Victoria pilots." The Argus says $120 was paid the pilot, and adds: "It is thought that the vessel would have been exacted in part paymont for pilotage if the pilot had got hold of her at Cape Flattery. Under the law which our late menagerie repealed this vessel would have been brought up by one of our own pilots for $70. The English pilot who brought her in boasted of the charge he had enforced, and told one of our pilots that they had a 'dead sure thing' on a rich harvest for the next two years and they intended to make hay during such favorable sunshine 'for all they were worth.' Between the Victoria pilots and Victoria tug boats an interesting amount of coin will be diverted from Puget Sound to B. C. before the work of our legislative blunderers can be undone. We have learned of four different vessels being towed up the Straits already by English tug boats, where the Puget Mill Co.'s steamer Goliah would in each case have done the towing had the pilot law been in force. We call public attention to these facts that people may know that the Argus was not making mere wild assertions in its predictions heretofore. The result is turning out exactly as we said it would, and although it makes no direct pecuniary difference to us, we propose to demonstrate to the hardy voters on the Sound who it is that is forcing money away from their midst to the pockets of our B. C. neighbors."

A STONE WHARF.—The Dominion government are about to proceed with the erection of a substantial stone wharf in front of the custom-house where the dredger is now working.

Municipal Police Court.

MONDAY, Feb. 6.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLIES.

An Indian woman although outside the courtroom would not put in an appearance for being drunk and her bail of $5 was estreated and the costs, $1.50, were also charged against her.

GARROTTING.

Joseph Kelly was charged with waylaying and robbing James B. Crowley of $4.10 on Saturday night on Store street.

Supt. O'Connor wished for a remand till Wednesday, as he was not prepared to go on with the charge.

Prisoner commenced an explanation, but was cautioned by the magistrate not to implicate himself.

Case remanded accordingly.

John L. Barry, implicated in the same offence, was also remanded.

MURDER.

Wah Tung, a Chinaman, was charged with killing Ah Kow on Fisgard street on Sunday morning.

Mr. Mills appeared for the prisoner.

A remand till Wednesday was asked for pending the inquest on the remains.

Ah Mow and Ah Ho, two Chinamen, charged with being accessories, were also remanded.

THE DOG CASE AGAIN.

A. McLean, Esq., J. P., here took the bench.

Ah Chow was charged with maliciously shooting a dog belonging to Henry Smith.

Mr. Mills appeared for the defence and claimed that the court had no jurisdiction. The point was noted and the case proceeded with.

The evidence of Mr. Smith was similar to that given on Friday last.

Henry Henley stated that the dog in question had been amongst his fowls very often and had never attempted to interfere with them.

Mr. Mills, for the defendant, contended that Mr. Pemberton, whose signature was appended to the summons issued, had no jurisdiction as he was stipendiary magistrate of the city only. Besides the defendant was quite justifiable in killing the dog.

The magistrate remarked on the latter point that the defendant could have had his remedy in another way without killing the dog and he could not dismiss the charge on that plea.

Mr. Mills quoted authorities in support of justification for the offence.

His Honor overruled the objections raised and the defendant in the former case, Ah May, was sworn. He deposed that his partner, Ah Chow, had told him that he had shot the dog because it had caught the chicken, but he had no intention of killing it.

Decision reserved till Thursday.

SLADE.

A Man who Professes to have Discovered His Attendant Spirit.

Prof. Slade, who was here three years ago, has been exposed in New York—so Prof. Baldwin says. Baldwin says he paid more than 50 visits to Slade and received messages written on slates from his father and wife, who are both living, saw spirit faces, and was touched by spirit hands. One of the most startling manifestations was the materialization of a spirit of a female beneath the table at which we all sat. To do this a curtain arrangement was necessary, but it was done so cleverly as to create amazement. "I was permitted to touch this materialized female's hand and wrist. If I continued my investigations upward the hand was withdrawn. The spirit hand would accept gifts from me. I knew this was a trick, as well as the rest of Slade's business, but how to detect it was the question which I was some time determining. I went to Slade so often that he no longer suspected me, and really became quite careless. The night I fixed on for the exposure, if it were possible, I took my friend with me. I requested the materialization of my deceased female friend. The light was turned down, and she was promptly produced and her hand extended for me to fondle as before. The hand was quite adroit, but after a while I succeeded in grasping hold of it. It was soft and fair like a woman's. I gave a signal to my friend and the table at which we sat was turned over. I drew from my pocket a little bomb, prepared with chemicals for the purpose, threw it upon the floor, and instantly the darkened room was illuminated as with an electric light. There was the whole secret exposed to view. My female friend from the shades of the blest was a 16-year old boy dressed in black tights. Slade was confused beyond all measure. He almost sank to the floor.

A Question Often Asked Me.

MR. GLOVER, what class of work are you making at your Factory Store, corner Government and Johnson streets?

Well, I will tell you: Since the first of November—two months and five days—I have made 100 prs. Pants, 610 Overshirts, 279 Undershirts, 516 prs. Drawers. In other words, have used up 3756 yards of cloth and made 1505 garments of all sizes and qualities. I also keep a good stock of imported Furnishing Goods and Clothing, and am agent for the Scotland Woolen Mills, Ont. *

A Question Never Asked Me.

MR. GILMORE:—What class of work are you making at your store on Johnson street?

Everybody knows that I am a Merchant Tailor and have always done the principal business of that kind in this Province since June, '58, and that I now employ more white labor and pay more wages in one month which goes to the support of respectable white families, than all the Chinese slop factory stores in the country do in one year. I manufacture my own goods and pay my own cash. There is no company's key to lock my door and keep honest men from collecting what justly belongs to them. I can manufacture goods cheaper and sell cheaper than any store in Victoria. Therefore, I invite my old customers and the public generally to encourage white labor and go to A. Gilmore, Johnson street. Good and cheap goods for all. *2w

1882. VALENTINES. 1882.

The undersigned beg to announce that they have just received one of the most varied and elegant assortments of VALENTINES ever imported into this Province, which for beauty of design and elegance in workmanship far surpasses any heretofore received by us.

An early inspection is invited by

GOOD HEALTH can be preserved by purchasing gum overshoes for 50 and 60 cents at G. B. Mansell & Co.'s, Odd Fellow's building. *

The All Stars.

The All Star Minstrels will arfive to-day from Puget Sound and will perform this and to-morrow evening at Theatre Royal. The company is the largest that has ever visited Victoria. It is scarcely necessary to say that it is the best—the names of Mr. Stechhan and Mr. Howe being a sufficient guarantee of excellence. A full and interesting programme has been selected and all who may attend will be highly delighted with the rich bill of fare. To secure the public safety in case of a panic an egress has been arranged from the dress circle through the old photographic gallery in front and thence by a four-foot stairway to the street. This will prevent the overcrowding of the lower passage-way should there be a sudden rush of people from the house.

THE ISLAND RAILWAY.

A Writer who Sounds an Alarm.

VICTORIA, 4th Sept., 1882.

TO THE EDITOR.—The legislative assembly will shortly be in session, and two private bills will be laid before its members applying for "an Act to incorporate a company to construct and work a railway from Esquimalt harbor via Nanaimo, to a point on or near the Seymour Narrows, V. I., and for a grant of public land in aid thereof." As these are matters of great importance to this community it may be as well to consider the advantages, or otherwise, to be derived therefrom, in order that we may fully comprehend the nature of the bargain. It is well known that the government have for many years past reserved a belt of land 20 miles in width extending from the Straits of Juan de Fuca along the East Coast of Vancouver Island to a point 20 miles west of the Seymour Narrows, in anticipation (at the time when the reservation was made) that the Canadian Pacific railroad would be brought to the Island via Bute Inlet. The change of route to the valley of the Fraser now points to Nanaimo as the nearest available place, consequently the stretch of land beyond that town to the Seymour Narrows is no longer needed for railway purposes. The present reserve from Nanaimo southward includes some of the best mineral lands in the province, comprising gold, silver, copper, iron, coal, with abundant indications of other valuable minerals, so much so, that it is not improbable a few hundred acres of such lands will more than cover the entire cost of the Island railway; nevertheless, the government have made the offer, i. e., a belt of land 20 miles in width, mile for mile, of railway, and they cannot with honor recede from it, but any extension of the land grant, outside the limits specified (that is from the Straits of Juan de Fuca to Nanaimo) should be met with a decided refusal, for without doubt the advantages are already in favor of a railway company, not only by the acquisition of this land but in the amount of traffic the line will ultimately command. That the mineral lands of the island are attracting the attention of capitalists may be inferred from the fact that two companies offer to extend the line to Seymour Narrows in consideration of a land grant, and it would be difficult to imagine that any company would extend a railway into a wilderness unless they expected to be indemnified for their outlay in some other way. In an agricultural point of view the land offers but little inducement to the farmer on account of being covered with a growth of immense trees which would take years to bring it under cultivation; therefore, it leads us to believe that the minerals and timber and other advantages are the attraction, which will not surprise anyone acquainted with the resources of the country.

Let us now glance at the statistics furnished by Mr. Richardson, the Dominion geologist, a most reliable authority. In his report of 1874 he mentioned the following facts: That the productive area of the coal measures between Northwest Bay and Cape Mudge, V. I., hold about 300 square miles, and states that if we estimate this area by the rule of the coal fields, South Wales, United Kingdom, a coal seam gives one thousand tons to every square acre of a seam one foot in thickness, leaving sufficient quantity for pillars to support the roof. He estimates the Union area at Comox at 16,000,000 tons per square mile. This if it yielded only 10 cents per ton profit, would give $1,600,000; or for the 300 square miles, $480,000,000 — more than sufficient to construct and equip a railway with all its branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific. I will not trouble you with any details regarding these mineral lands, but would strongly recommend persons who take an interest in this matter to read Richardson's report on B. C., from which they may gather a faint idea of the value of our mineral deposits; for it must be remembered that there are other minerals, perhaps equal in value to these coal measures. I may mention that a gentleman experienced in valuing timber estimates that between Nanaimo and Seymour Narrows there exist two thousand million feet of lumber, which, calculated at a profit of 50 cents per thousand, would yield another million dollars.

That it is desirable to have a railway from Esquimalt to Nanaimo every one must admit; but great care should be observed in making the bargain lest we pay too dear for it. It has been said that the railway reserve may as well be in the hands of a company as in the hands of the government. This is a fallacy. If a company hold possession of these lands it is probable that they would not dispose of the coal, mineral or timbered lands, townsites, or water powers, but retain them for their own purposes, and then form a dangerous monopoly, diametrically opposed to the best interests of the province, and that the railway, instead of conferring a benefit by bringing prosperity to us would turn out a curse. Great complaints have been heard against the Hudson Bay, Puget Sound, and Vancouver Coal Companies on account of their respective monopolies; but when compared with the extraordinary powers of a railway company holding such possessions they sink into insignificance.

There is another feature in the scheme to which I would direct special attention. If the belt of land is granted beyond Nanaimo it would include part of the Alberni canal and give power to a company (if so inclined) to construct a branch line to that harbor, thus depriving Victoria of the greater part of the railway traffic, for although the Alberni canal bears no comparison to Esquimalt harbor, it nevertheless possesses advantages to a railway company on account of the surrounding lands available for an extensive townsite and the control of the Canadian Pacific traffic by a ferry connecting Burrard Inlet and Nanaimo. All these matters are of grave importance, and should be jealously watched, for a single false step may cause irretrievable ruin. Much depends upon the government. If they have the welfare of the community at heart, and honestly perform their duty, they secure to us permanent prosperity. If not it will strike a blow at the south end of the island from which it may take years to recover. But with a railway from Nanaimo and a liberal policy in aiding the development of the mineral lands north of that town Vancouver Island will prove the richest possession in the Dominion of Canada. EXPLORER.

DISTURBED COUNTRIES.

Concerning Ireland and Russia.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—John Dillon writes to Forster, Chief Secretary for Ireland, as follows:

"I have received your message, that if I desire to go to the continent the gates of Kilmainham Prison are open to me. I do not know why the message was sent to me, as I have made no communication to you. If any representations have been made by my friends they are without my consent or knowledge. I must request that you will not address to me any further communications."

At a conference of the Land Nationalization Society, Henry George, of America, said it was imperative that the question must come to the front in England, as it had done in America and Ireland. Private property in land was so unjust that it must be altogether abolished.

It is understood that Dr. Kenney will be the Land League candidate for Parliament for Meath.

Unforeseen difficulties attending the publication in Paris of the "United Ireland," it will be transferred to Liverpool.

MOSCOW, Jan. 30.—The scheme of the Governor-General for assuring the safety of the imperial cortege to Moscow for the coronation ceremonies, proposes that the Emperor shall come to Moscow by carriage-road instead of by railway, and the crowds in the streets shall be separated from the procession by trenches, barriers and lines of troops.

PUNISHMENT POULTICES.

The Matron of a Children's Home Finds a New Use for Mustard.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16, 1882.

The city was startled to day by a sensation which for novelty, as well as diabolism, is perhaps unrivalled. The Hervey Institute is a home for children whose parents can pay wholly or partly for their maintenance. There are generally in the institute over one hundred inmates of ages ranging between infancy and fourteen years old, and several of the leading ladies of Montreal are managers of the concern. A quarrel between Mrs. Craig, the matron, and a nurse recently disclosed the revolting story that the matron for some time past had been in the habit of punishing refractory children by applying mustard poultices to their bodies. About sixteen of the children were stated to have been thus treated. Some of these were infants, and one little fellow is represented to have been so terrified at this mode of punishment that he set fire to the children's dormitory in order, he said, to try and escape from the house and mustard blisters. The children are stated to have been, in some cases, so badly blistered that they could not sit down. When brought before the board of management the matron acknowledged the mustard plaster punishment, repented, was forgiven and was maintained in her position. Legal measures and personal violence against the matron are threatened by the parents of some of the children who have been sufferers by the heartless treatment.

A Two Thousand Dollar Tooth.

A man in a large active business in New York said in our hearing: "The worst oversight of my younger days was that somebody did not instruct me to take care of my teeth. At 50 years of age I have but eight natural teeth left, and I could well afford to pay even $2,000 apiece to get back half a dozen or more that I needlessly lost." In explanation he put it this way: "Artificial teeth are at best a very poor substitute. I am in a large business that needs a good deal of strength of body and mind. All strength comes from food well digested. But perfect digestion only takes place when food is thoroughly masticated (chewed) and mixed with the saliva and good firm teeth are essential for this. So, if I had better teeth I could do a great deal more of profitable business, and earn additional money enough to pay a great price for several of them."

This is worth thinking of by the young. Here are some good rules: 1st. Never crack nuts with the teeth, or bite very hard substances; it breaks or cracks the enamel and hastens decay. — 2nd. Always brush the teeth before going to bed, if not in the morning also, and use a wooden or quill toothpick (not pins or other metal), to remove any food from between the teeth. If left there overnight it ferments and injures the teeth. Use only a moderately stiff tooth-brush; a very stiff one injures the gums, and promotes decay.—3rd. Do not use any of the "boughten" tooth-powders, unless it be finely powdered orris root. The most active tooth-powders, which whiten the teeth quickly, contain injurious acids or alkalies. Charcoal, however fine, is not good; it has the "grit" and wear of diamond dust.—4th. If the slightest decay begins on any tooth, have a reliable, skilful dentist plug it firmly at once. It will be one of the best possible investments of a small sum for the future.—American Agriculturist.

THE GOOD PHYSICIAN.

BY DR. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

How blest is he who knows no meaner strife
Than art's long battle with the foes of life!
No doubt assails him, doing still his best,
And trusting kindly nature for the rest;
No mocking conscience tears the thin disguise
That wraps his breast, and tells him that he lies.
He comes; the languid sufferer lifts his head
And smiles a welcome from his weary bed;
He speaks: what music like the tones that tell
"Past is the hour of danger—all is well!"
How can he fail the petty stings of grief
Whose cheering presence always brings relief?
What ugly dreams can trouble his repose
Who yields himself to soothe another's woes?
Hour after hour the busy day has found
The good physician on his lonely round;
Mansion and hovel, low and lofty door,
He knows, his journeys every path explore—
Where the cold blast has struck with deadly chill
The sturdy dweller on the storm-swept hill,
Where by the stagnant marsh the sickening gale
Has blanched the poisoned tenants of the vale,
Where crushed and maimed the bleeding victim lies
Where madness raves, where melancholy sighs,
And where the solemn whisper tells too plain
That all his science, all his art were vain.

How sweet his fireside when the day is done,
And cares have vanished with the setting sun!
Evening at last its hour of respite brings,
And on his couch his weary length he flings.
Soft be thy pillow, servant of mankind;
Lulled by an opiate art could never find;
Sweet be thy slumber—thou hast earned it well—
Pleasant thy dreams! Clang! goes the midnight bell;
Darkness and storm! the home is far away
That waits his coming ere the break of day;
The snow-clad pines their wintry plumage toss—
Doubtful the frozen stream his road must cross;
Deep lie the drifts, the slanted heaps have shut
The hardy woodman in his mountain hut—
Why should thy softer frame the tempest brave?
Hast thou no life, no health, to lose or save?
Look! read the answer in his patient's eyes—
For him no other voice when suffering cries;
Deaf to the gale that all around him blows,
A feeble whisper calls him—and he goes.

Or seek the crowded city—summer's heat
Glares burning, blinding, in the narrow street,
Still, noisome, deadly, sleeps the envenomed air,
Unstirred the yellow flag that says "Beware!"
Tempt not thy fate—one little moment's breath
Bears on its viewless wings the seeds of death;
Thou at whose door the gilded chariots stand,
Whose dear-bought skill unclasps the miser's hand,
Turn from thy fatal quest, nor cast away
That life so precious; let a meaner prey
Feed the destroyer's hunger; live to bless
Those happier homes that need thy care no less.

Smiling he listens; has he then a charm
Whose magic virtues peril can disarm?
No safeguard this; no amulet he wears;
Too well he knows that nature never spares
Her truest servant, powerless to defend
From her own weapons her unshrinking friend.
He dares the fate the bravest well might shun,
Nor asks reward save only Heaven's "Well done!"

Such are the toils, the perils that he knows,
Days without rest and nights without repose,
Yet all unheeded for the love he bears
His art, his kind, whose every grief he shares.

PROVINCIAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

To the President, Officers and Subscribers to the British Columbia Rifle Association, 1881.

GENTLEMEN:—I HAVE THE HONOR TO SUBmit the Eighth Annual Report of the proceeding of this Association, and desire to acknowledge the support and encouragement given by the members of the Active Militia of British Columbia as well as those citizens of Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo who have voluntarily assisted the Association in carrying out the object for which it was established, viz: the encouragement of Rifle Shooting in the Province.

The Annual Grant from the Dominion Government of $500 has been duly received.

The Annual Prize Meeting, being the eighth since the establishment of the Association, was this year held at New Westminster on the 10th August and two following days. Competitors from all corps in the Province were present, and the success of the meeting was in a great measure due to them for their ready compliance with all instructions issued by the Executive Committee of the Council, under whose charge the meeting was carried out.

The number of entries for the several matches were as follows:—

No. 1. Opening Match	25
2. Governor General's Prizes	30
3. New West. Corporation Prize	32
4. Royal City Prize	28
5. Nanaimo Corporation Prize	28
6. Wellington Cup	28
8. New Westminster Rifles' Prize	27
9. Association Prizes	32
10. Consolation Match	17

The total Receipts from all sources during the year have been as follows:—

Dominion Government Grant	$500 00
Members at $1	62 00
Proceedings of Prize Meeting	197 37
	$759 36

The expenses incurred towards carrying out the Prize meeting were $183 70, which include the annual affiliation fee to the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association of $40 00.

The amount distributed in Prizes was $400, in addition to which five Challenge Cups, the Governor General's Silver and Bronze Medals, B.C.R.A. Medal, Gold and Silver Badges of this Association and the "Laurie Bugle," as well as prizes in kind were competed for, the aggregate value of which may be estimated at $415.

None of the Challenge Cups presented to the Association for competition have yet been finally won, and their number has been increased this year by the New Westminster Corporation Prize (match No. 3.) and a Silver Cup presented by Mayor Dickinson and the Municipal Council of New Westminster, and the "Occident Challenge Cup" presented by Councillor Howison of New Westminster.

The following are the names of the winners of the Challenge Cups for 1881, with their scores:—

"New Westminster Corporation Cup."
Lieut. Jackson, N.W.R. ..... 44 points, possible 50

"Royal City Prize."
Private DeBeck, N.W.R. ..... 76 points, possible 105

"Occident Challenge Cup."
Capt. Wolfenden, V.R. ..... 43 points, possible 50

"Nanaimo Corporation Cup."
Capt. Peele, N.W.R. ..... 45 points, possible 50

"Wellington Cup."
Asst. Surg. Trew, staff ..... 35 points, possible 70

The Medals presented by His Excellency the Marquis of Lorne, Governor General, have been won as follows:—

The Silver Medal by Sgt.-Major Brown, Gar. Artil.
The Bronze Medal by Lieut. Jackson, N.W.R.

The grand aggregate prize, for the first and second highest scores in all competitions, except Nos. 7 and 10, the first consisting of the Gold Badge of the B.C. R.A., the Silver Medal of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association and $15, and the second, the Silver Badge of the B.C.R.A. and $10, were won respectively by Lieut. Jackson, N. W. Rifles, and Sergt. J. P. Kennedy, No. 1 Co. Victoria Rifles.

A prize for the fewest misses in all competitions except Nos. 7 and 10, presented by Lieut. Jackson, was won by Sergt. J. P. Kennedy, No. 1 Co. V. R., and a prize for the fewest outers in competitions, restricted to the Active Militia, presented by Asst. Surgeon Trew, District Staff, was won by Corpl. John Cox, No. 2 Co. V.R.

The most interesting event of the meeting was the Team Match, competed for by teams of five members of the Active Militia selected respectively from Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo. (Match No. 7) The teams representing the several localities were selected from the best shots at the meeting, and resulted in a victory for the team representing Victoria, the New Westminster team taking second place and the Nanaimo team third.

The prize to the winning team was a handsome Silver Bugle, presented by Colonel Laurie, Deputy Adjutant General. The Bugle having to be again competed for by a team of ten men from each of the corps of Militia in existence in the locality represented by the winning team, it was won for the year by No. 1 Co. V.R.

The property belonging to the Association consists of:

6 Marking Discs,
4 Red Signal Flags (2 damaged),
3 Brushes (damaged),
3 Iron Plates (6x2),
1 Pool Target,
1 Range Score Book,

in charge of the caretaker at Clover Point.

Two first-class and two second-class iron targets used by the Association are the property of the Militia Department. These targets are all more or less damaged and should be replaced.

The lease of the ground used by the Association as a Rifle Range will expire on the 24th March next, the rent of $25 per annum having up to this time been defrayed and paid by the Association.

I beg to draw the attention of the incoming Council of the Association to the necessity of adopting an improved system of marking. The present system is antiquated and unsatisfactory and frequently gives cause for complaint.

As local Rifle Associations have been formed at Victoria, New Westminster and Nanaimo, the question of their affiliation with this Association might be considered, and some provisions made by which the prizes offered at their local competitions might be augmented by grants of money or badges from this Association and an arrangement made with the local Association of Victoria for a proportionate contribution to the expenses of the Range at Victoria.

E. FLETCHER, Secretary.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholerale Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d. and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Sole Manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.
